

IRAN: HOPES FOR SPEEDY RELEASE

SEE PAGE 6

WHAT MADE MADGE WEEP?

SEE PAGE 11

Oh, dad! Bob dresses up for Peaches' 18th

CCTV spy cameras will TALK in London

Speakers to tick off anti-social yobs

LONDON is to get CCTV cameras that tell off offenders in the street.

Drunks, vandals and litter louts will be chastised with a child's voice broadcast over loudspeakers.

The cameras will zero in on anti-social behaviour and an operator at a control centre will trigger the pre-recorded ticking off. And not only will the camera talk, it will listen. A help button will allow the public to alert the control centre to turn the lens to trouble elsewhere.

BY MARTIN BENTHAM

A scheme in Middlesbrough using the special cameras, pictured, is said to have cut public order offences by 70 per cent.

But it was branded "absurd" by civil liberty campaigners today. Other critics said criminals will simply move on.

Tony Arbour of the Metropolitan Police Authority said: "We are accustomed to Big Brother

Continued on Page 6 ▶

FULL STORY AND MORE PICTURES: SEE PAGE 9

Every daughter's nightmare: it's bad enough having your dad at your 18th — but Peaches Geldof's father Bob also seemed to throw himself into the circus theme with a clown-style outfit last night

Looking for property abroad?

OVERSEAS property EXPO

New-Luxury Property Section

Buy an overseas property with as little as

£10,000*

Free independent advice from financial, legal and currency specialists including CFP, Echevarria and HIFX

FREE ENTRY TO ALL STANDS AND SEMINARS

Want To Know More? Give Us A Call, Its Free!

0800 3101 218

Or Visit www.overseaspropertyexpo.com

All prices are subject to availability. *£10,000 represents a deposit.

THIS EASTER WEEKEND

Fri 6th - Mon 9th April
10am - 9pm

Sandown Park Racecourse, Esher

